

a. Stone Age

Caves served as big canvas while sharpened tools became their pen. Prehistoric men drew on caves what they see around them, such as animals and nature. During the Stone Age, prehistoric people also used these crude stone tools to create objects, which are now considered rock art. There are two kinds of rock art during Stone Age. These are called petroglyphs and pictographs.

b. Metal Age

The Metal Age is divided into three stages: The Copper Age, the Bronze Age and the Iron Age. During the Metal Ages, people made a variety of metal objects. They also invented new techniques for making clay pottery. The most characteristic examples are beaker pots.

PETROGLYPHS

Can be carvings in rocks or caves while pictographs represent words phrases through images or symbols

PICTOGRAPHS

Used to refer to sketches or paintings that actually depict nature giving us glimpse of the early people's way of life

Example: images of some wild animals and men carrying hunting tools make an impression most of the people during Stone Age used to be hunters.

Industrial Age: (1700s – 1930s)

The Industrial Age is a period of history that encompasses the changes in economic and social organization that began around 1760 in Great Britain and later in other countries, characterized chiefly by the replacement of hand tools with power-driven machines such as the power loom and the steam engine, and by the concentration of industry in large establishments.

Telephone

Typewriter

Telegraph

Electronic Age: (1930s – 1980s)

The Electronic age is the invention of the transistor ushered in the electronic age. People harnessed the power of transistor that led to the transistor communication became more efficient.

Transistor Radio (1947)

Television (1941)

Large electronic computers- i.e.
EDSAC (1949) and UNIVAC 1 (1951)

Digital Age: (1900s-2000s)

Digital Age or Informational Age is a period in human history characterized by the shift from traditional industry that the Industrial Revolution brought through industrialization, to an economy based on information computerization. The internet paved the way advanced the used of microelectronics with the invention of personal computers, devices wearable technology. Moreover, voice, image, sounds, and data are digitalized

Mission 2: Fill in the Box

Directions: Provide the answers in the table below.

AGE	What devices did people use to communicate with each other?	List one advantage of using the device	List one disadvantage of using the device
Prehistoric Age
Industrial Age
Electronic Age
Digital Age

Relationship between Traditional Media and New Media

Traditional media allows businesses to target a broad target audience through billboards, print advertising, television commercials, and more. In comparison, new media allows companies to target a narrow target audience through social media, paid online ads, and search results

Mission 3: Travel in time

Instructions: Technology has evolved through the years. In this activity, you will create a timeline that exudes the transformation of traditional media into new media.

Tips on How to Make a Creative Timeline (By Akshay Bhanawat -January 29, 2022)

- 1. Organize the timeline around a central theme.
- 2. Use real objects that represent time.
- 3. Make a list of things that happened in chronological order.
- 4. Represent time through images.
- 5. Use graphic design elements.
- 6. Add key dates.
- 7. Use multimedia.

Example:

Below is the rubric for your performance task:

Category	Score
Quality of information	10
Timeliness	10
Coherence	10
Creativity	10
Total:	40

Roles and Functions of Media in a Democratic Society

Media democracy

Set of ideas advocating reforming the mass media, strengthening public service broadcasting, and developing and participating in alternative media and citizen journalism focuses on using information technologies to both empower individual citizens and promote democratic ideals through the spread of information.

Role of Media

The term also refers to a modern social movement evident in countries all over the world, which attempts to make mainstream media more accountable to the publics they serve.

Responsibility towards the Society

- publish corrections to the audience or mass people
- essential to maintain distinction between facts and opinion
- Use only trained professional reporters with knowledge of subject and who check sources before reporting.
- Media makes us aware of various social, political and economic activities happening around the world.
- Preserve state secrets or do not use information likely to be harmful to national security or to endanger individuals. Roles and Functions of Media in Democratic Society by Ray Sabio (prezi.com)

Mission 4: Short Discussion

Below are the activities that you will demonstrate to show the role of media in a democratic society. It will assess the influence of an individual on how you convey information you acquire in the media.

Task:

1. Choose the most recent theory by conducting a research.
2. Discuss the crucial information in front of the class.
3. Ask two or three students about the theory.

References:

- Media and Information Literacy Curriculum Guide by DepEd
- <https://media-and-information-literacy-mil-the-evolution-of-traditional-to-new-media-6-638.jpg> (638x479) (slidesharecdn.com)
- https://xtec.gencat.cat/web/.content/alfresco/d/d/workspace/SpacesStore/0034/123e50f1-ff9a-466e-9bcc-2ca2d70e2fc1/metal\_ages.pdf
- <https://www.sutori.com/en/story/the-evolution-of-traditional-media-to-new-media--6EnZMSt2SqCEmNnYTdYXh2XN>